CAMP MEETING IN PROGRESS.

Former Washington Pastors Participate in Services at Allegany Grove.

CUMBERLAND, Md., July 19.—Allergy Grove camp meeting, five miles from Cumberland, has begun its annual session under the direction of Rev. George C. Bacon, district superintendent of the Frederick district, Baltimore conference, Methodist Episcopal Church. Dr. Bacon was for many years pastor of Douglas Memorial Church in Washington. His opening sermon gave the keynote for the services, which will continue ten days. He demanded dependence upon the Holy Spirit for all spiritual results. At following services sermons were preached by Drs. W. M. Ferguson, J. F. Heise, W. Watson, W. L. Lynn, all former pastors in Washington.
 Wednesday and Thursday will be in the nature of a protracted convention, at which time the Rev. William F. Anderson, who presided at the recent session of the Baltimore conference, will be present to participate in the discussions. He will also preach Thursday evening.

NO HOME FOR CAREY GIRL YET.

Institutions Fail to Submit Proposals for Keeping Her.

With no word received from any of the institutions which were asked to submit proposals for the keeping of Florence Carey, the runaway, at the District's expense, the prospect of finding an outside home for the girl is diminishing.
 John A. Cline, secretary of the board of children's guardians, today said that, until arrangements have been made for locating the girl in some state reformatory, it may become necessary for him to try to find a private home for her in the District.
 Mr. Cline does not anticipate any difficulty in keeping the District's ward in the house of detention indefinitely, or until arrangements have been made for locating her permanently, notwithstanding an institution of this nature is seldom used other than for short-period incarcerations.

"Florence is a good girl at heart," he said. "If she is given the proper surroundings, I believe she will develop into a good woman. She will be a ward of the District for only another year, when she becomes of age. But at that time it is my belief she will show great development."

FISH FROM THE COAST.

Heavier Shipments to This Port Than Usual—Demand Good.

The receipts of fresh fish from Atlantic coast sources, which have been very light for several days, are becoming heavier, but the demand for them continues good and they are selling at good prices from the wholesale dealer's standpoint. Yesterday and again this morning the dealers received a good supply of trout, mackerel, bluefish, butterfish and a few croakers and other varieties from the Jersey coast fisheries, as well as from those near Norfolk.
 Trout and mackerel are selling at 6 and 8 cents a pound, and the other varieties are also bringing good prices. Hard crabs are becoming more plentiful, over a hundred barrels of the crustaceans having been received here this morning from points on the Potomac. The shell fish are in excellent condition and are selling at from $1.50 to $2 per barrel, depending on the quality. Desirable ones are bringing smaller prices.
 Soft shell crabs are becoming scarce, but the demand for them continues good. They sell from 40 to 65 cents per dozen.

NEW DATE FOR HANGING.

Execution of Mattie Lomax and Arthur Johnson Set for November 20

Monday, November 20, was designated today by Justice Wright as the date of execution of Mattie E. Lomax, colored, convicted of the killing of her husband, Cecil Lomax, last December, and of Arthur Johnson, colored, also under sentence of death in connection with the killing of John O. Hoffman.
 Both executions had been set for July 31, but as the appeals to the Court of Appeals have been perfected in both cases, Justice Wright postponed the date of the hanging until November in order that the Appellate Court may hear and determine the appeals.
 Attorneys John Riddett, S. D. Truitt and Campbell Carrington represent Mrs. Lomax and Attorney T. M. Baker appears for Johnson.

Eczema Came From Teething.

Watery Festers Dried in Scabs. Would Dig and Scratch Her Face. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and Was Cured.

"When my little girl was about eight months old she was taken with a very irritating breaking out which came on her face, neck and back. When she first came down with it it came in little watery-like festers under her eyes and on her chin, then after a few days it would dry down in scaly white scabs. In the daytime she was quite worrisome and would dig and scratch her face nearly all the time.
 "I consulted our physician and found she was suffering from eczema, which, he said, came from her teething. I used the ointment he gave me and without any relief at all. Then I wrote for a book on Cuticura, and purchased some Cuticura Soap and Ointment at the drug store. I did as I found directions in the Cuticura booklet, and when she was one year old she was entirely cured. Now she is three years and four months, and she has never been troubled with eczema since she was cured by the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment." (Signed) Mrs. Penman Carter, 211 Lewis St., Syracuse, N. Y., May 6, 1911.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold throughout the world, but to those who have tried the usual remedies and found them wanting, and who have lost faith in everything, a liberal sample of each, with 32-p. book on the skin, will be sent post free on application to Porter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 24, Boston, Mass.

DEDICATED TO PEACE

Blue and Gray Veterans Meet on Bull Run Battlefield.

PRESIDENT THERE FRIDAY

With Gov. Mann and Others He Will Speak at Manassas Court House.

The fields and hillsides of Bull Run, scene of one of the most important conflicts of the civil war, are the scene of this week for the battle-scarred heroes of that mighty internecine struggle, who are assembling for a peace jubilee, the first great celebration of its kind ever held.
 Former wearers of the blue and the gray are meeting again in a spirit of friendly comradeship on the spot where, half a century ago, they met in deadly conflict. Thither President Taft, statesmen from every section of the country and hundreds of veterans are wending their way to pay tribute to those who laid down their lives in that mighty struggle, the results of which so firmly cemented the Union of the American states.

The celebration was opened last Sunday evening at Manassas, Va., when Rev. Henry N. Coulton, the blind chaplain of the House of Representatives, delivered a sermon on "On Earth, Peace, Good Will Toward Men." Today the United States Conference will dedicate a pavilion at Groveton, a place which figured in the battle of Bull Run, and which has since been visited by Blackburn's Ford and other parts of the battlefield.

Friday the Big Day.

Friday, the biggest day of the celebration, President Taft, Gov. Mann of Virginia, Gen. Gilman of the G. A. R., Gen. Gordon of the United Confederate Veterans, Senator Martin, Representative Carlin of Virginia, and others will deliver addresses, services, tableaux and other patriotic features filling out the program.

Arrangements for the pilgrimage of President Taft to Bull Run were completed yesterday, when Capt. Lucien C. Wheeler called at the White House. The presidential party will be the President, C. D. Hilles, his secretary, Maj. A. B. E. Deane, Senator Thomas S. Martin, Representative Charles C. Carlin and Secret Service Officers R. L. Jarvis and James Sloan.

The party will proceed by automobile to Fairfax Court House, stopping there about noon for luncheon. Manassas will be reached about 4 o'clock, where an escort of two troops of cavalry will precede the party to the battlefield, where the exercises will be held. The President will be met by a reception committee and will be conducted by Gov. Mann to the speakers' stand. As the President enters the courthouse yard a tableau of forty-eight young men, representing the states of the Union, will sing the Manassas national jubilee anthem, "Till'de' Westward Hitcheson." The President will introduce Representative Carlin, who will present Gov. Mann, and the latter will introduce the President. When the President is speaking, the cavalry escort will remain on Lee avenue, and will then accompany him to Washington.

The committee is expecting its most successful season.

The committee on summer outings has just issued a second appeal for funds. It hopes to be able to report that this sum has been raised not later than the first of August.

CREW IN REVOLT.

Ram Schooner Jennie D. Bell Detained Here by Deserters.

Capt. James Williams, master of the ram schooner Jennie D. Bell, was an exasperated officer Monday afternoon and was inclined to swear in deep sea language, but he didn't. The vessel had been loading lumber here for several days, and Monday afternoon the last stick of timber she had aboard was put over the rail and all preparations were made to sail. Just about the time she was to have cast off her moorings and started on her way to sea, a notice that did not want to make the trip and went ashore, leaving the vessel shorthanded. The crew, who had been deserting, had concluded the vessel was better off without them, and they had decided to stay in the city, where a new crew arrived from Baltimore and he set sail.
